

A Wartime Adventure: Air raids and Anderson shelters Explore Sherborne's past with your child!

Life in Sherborne during World War Two was difficult and dangerous, but sometimes exciting too. Fascinating records kept at The Dorset History Centre tell the story of everyday life during this time. Come and discover who served over a 1000 cups of tea in one night, use maps to discover the story of the air-raid of September 30th 1940, discover what was in the local news and try some fun wartime activities.

Date: 16 February 2010

Time: 10.30 am – 12.30 pm

Place: Sherborne Museum, Church Lane, Sherborne DT938P

To be sure of your place on this FREE workshop please book on 0800 26 26 48 (freephone) as soon as possible. You are welcome to turn up on the day but those who have booked will be given priority. Best suited to primary age children.